

Managing Comprehensive Health and Nutrition During the Pandemic

For Head Start, Early Head Start, American Indian & Alaskan Native, Migrant and Seasonal Head Start and Early Head Start Childcare Partnership Program Staff

A Virtual Event

January 18-20, 2022

10:00 AM – 3:00 PM CST each day

(11 AM-4 PM ET|9 AM-2 PM MT|8 AM-1 PM PT)

Health is the foundation of school readiness. Managing comprehensive health services in Head Start, Early Head Start, American Indian/Alaska Native and Migrant and Seasonal Head Start, as well as Child Care Partnerships is complex, conflicting, and ever-changing. It spans medical, nutritional, mental, and oral health, and serves those with differing abilities. Federal, state, local, tribal, and other regulations must be understood and followed – often regulations differ among themselves on the same topic. In addition, the role of Health & Nutrition Manager varies widely from program to program and is clearly impacted by the skill level, training, and partners who support the health area. In addition, we are smack in the midst of a viral pandemic, which has required a myriad of processes, timelines, and expectations to be adjusted, while still implementing the Head Start Performance Standards, USDA regulations, and Head Start monitoring processes.

Managing Comprehensive Health and Nutrition During the Pandemic strives to provide content-area staff overseeing these services (as well as their supervisors, colleagues, and partners) with accurate, consistent, credible, and realistic information and tools with which to deliver the mandated comprehensive health services. Since Health is Science-based and therefore always evolving, this event continually updates content based on the most up-to-date information available. New materials are added, and no two iterations of this training are ever identical!

Participants in Managing Comprehensive Health and Nutrition During the Pandemic refine their management skills, garner updated information, and gain insight into current medical health, mental health, nutritional sciences, and dental health practices for early childhood programs and the Head Start, Early Head Start, and Child Care Partnership setting. They also learn to effectively monitor classrooms for health and safety and explore solutions to the tough issues facing programs today, such as safety considerations during the pandemic, identifying the impacts of stress and trauma on behavior and health, short- and long-term exclusion, role of health and nutrition in school readiness goals, special diets, incomplete physical examinations, identifying food insecurity and intervening, inadequate numbers of providers willing to work with young children, and adjustments to service delivery associated with the coronavirus.

An intentional, teamwork and systems-based approach is stressed throughout this intensive institute, focusing on the management of medical health, nutritional, mental and oral health, as well as safety. The institute addresses the current health care system; recruitment, documentation and recordkeeping; health resources; and strategies for positively engaging families and children.

The institute integrates Hot Topics in Head Start, Early Head Start, and Child Care Partnership health and nutrition.

The Standard Registration Fee is $560 per person. Members of T/TAS@Your Service may qualify for the Subscriber Rate of $525 per person.
